[Chime bell rings.]

W: Good afternoon, visitors. This is an announcement from the Roseydale Park management office. To ensure the safety of everyone, we ask all bike riders to follow the posted speed limits within the park. Our park is used by many people who walk, run, and bike. Even though we have designated bike lanes, riding bikes over the speed limit can be dangerous not only to bike riders but also to others. Fast bike riders can't slow down when a person suddenly appears in front of them, often leading to serious injuries. Following the speed limit can prevent such unexpected accidents and make the park a safer place for all visitors. Thank you for your cooperation.

대화를 듣고, 남자의 의견으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Anna, you keep checking your phone while reading.

W: Yeah. I'm looking up every word I don't know.

M: Every time? That can actually make it difficult to follow the whole text.

W: Really? I thought checking words would help.

M: It helps with understanding the individual word, but disrupts the flow of reading.

W: What do you mean?

M: When you stop to look up a word, you could lose your place in the text.

W: Oh, that's true. I often have to read the sentence again.

M: Exactly. And when you keep doing that, you might miss the main idea of the story.

W: That makes sense.

M: That's why checking every unfamiliar word can make it hard to understand the whole text.

W: I see. I'll keep that in mind.

W: Good afternoon, everyone. This is Natalie Brown from Music Insight. Today, I'd like to talk about how background music affects the way people talk to each other. Simply put, it can change the way people communicate. For example, when loud, fast music is playing, people often speak more quickly and raise their voices. Because the sound competes with their words, conversations become shorter and more direct. On the other hand, slow and gentle music encourages people to slow down and speak softer. This often leads to longer and calmer conversations. So, background music doesn't just set the mood. It changes the way we talk. Now, we'll take a short break and be back soon. Stay tuned.

대화를 듣고, 그림에서 대화의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것을 고르시오.

M: Good morning, Tania. What did you do last weekend?

W: I took my daughter to a kids' chocolate workshop. Look at this photo.

M: Oh, there's a banner on the wall that says, "A Sweet Day with Chocolate."

W: Yeah, that was the name of the workshop.

M: Cute. And is the girl wearing a striped apron your daughter?

W: Yes. She really enjoyed her time there.

M: Oh, I see. Did she use the microwave under the clock?

W: Yes. She melted the chocolate there.

M: That seems safer than using fire. What are the two bowls on the table for?

W: Those are for mixing the chocolate with ingredients she chose. And do you see the star-shaped box on the shelf?

M: Yeah. What is it?

W: When the chocolate was ready, she put it in the box and took it home.

M: I'm sure she enjoyed it. I should take my kid there, too.

대화를 듣고, 남자가 할 일로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Issac, it's our band's first busking event at school today. Are we almost ready?

M: Pretty much. Let's check the last few things.

W: Okay. I just checked the microphones and they're fully charged.

M: Great. And I brought extra batteries in case we need more power.

W: Perfect. We'll definitely need them.

M: Did you move the instruments from the music room?

W: Yeah, I carried them with the other members to the front of the main building.

M: Thanks. Wait, does the school broadcasting club know when to announce the event?

W: Yes, Jeremy asked them to do that before lunch, so we're all good.

M: Sounds good. By the way, we might need some water during the performance.

W: That's right. I totally forgot.

M: No worries. I'll bring some water to drink.

W: Thanks! Everything seems ready.

대화를 듣고, 여자가 지불할 금액을 고르시오. [3점]

M: Welcome to Dream Bath Shop! How can I help you?

W: Hi. I'm looking for a towel set for my mom.

M: Okay, we have two types. The basic set is $15, and the premium set, made from organic cotton, is $20.

W: My mom has sensitive skin, so I'll take one premium set.

M: Good choice. Anything else?

W: Do you have hair treatment as well?

M: Yes. This moisturizing hair treatment is $10. This is a popular item.

W: Nice. I'll take two bottles, one for my mom and one for me. That's all.

M: Perfect. So that's one premium towel set and two bottles of moisturizing hair treatment, right?

W: Yes. And can I use this coupon I got from the app?

M: Sure. You get 10% off the total.

W: Great! I'll pay with my credit card.

대화를 듣고, 남자가 Stand-up Comedy Show에 갈 수 없는 이유를 고르시오.

W: John, you look exhausted these days. Are you feeling okay?

M: Yeah, I was busy preparing for the company's project. I need a way to relieve my stress.

W: Then how about the Stand-up Comedy Show? I heard the famous comedian, Marvin Krull, is coming to town.

M: Really? I'm such a big fan of him. When is it?

W: Next Friday evening. Let's go together.

M: Oh, no. I'm afraid I can't make it.

W: Why not? Do you still attend night classes for graduate school?

M: That's not the issue. The semester ended last week.

W: Is it the family dinner day you mentioned before?

M: No, that's on Sunday.

W: Then why can't you go?

M: One of my coworkers is transferring to another company so we're having a farewell party for her.

W: I see. Maybe next time.

대화를 듣고, Big Wave Surfing Class에 관해 언급되지 않은 것을 고르시오.

M: Hey Lisa, what are you looking at?

W: It's a flyer about Big Wave Surfing Class. I'm thinking about taking it.

M: Oh, I've tried surfing before. It was really fun. Where is it?

W: It's at Coral Beach.

M: I know that place. The waves are great there.

W: That's what the flyer says, too. And the class is two hours long.

M: I think that's enough for beginners. Classes longer than that would be too tiring.

W: That makes sense. Do you think the class size matters? It says one class has a maximum of five people.

M: That's a good size for beginner classes. The instructor can easily teach each of you the basic way to surf. How much is the class?

W: It says it's $50 per person including all the surfing equipment and snacks.

M: That's reasonable. You'll have fun.

다음 표를 보면서 대화를 듣고, 두 사람이 구입할 빨래 바구니를 고르시오.

M: Honey, we need to get a new laundry basket.

W: I know. I was searching some options online. Let's choose one together.

M: Okay. They offer different basket sizes.

W: I think the small size would be inconvenient because it fills up too quickly.

M: You're right. And we can also choose the material. The plastic one we used before broke too easily.

W: Yeah. It's not durable enough to hold lots of clothes.

M: That's true. How about this one?

W: It looks nice, but spending over $40 is too much.

M: I agree. Now we have two options left.

W: Yes. Do you think we need handles?

M: Of course. A basket without handles will be hard to carry.

W: That's a good point. Then only one option matches our needs.

M: Perfect. Let's buy that one.

대화를 듣고, 남자의 마지막 말에 대한 여자의 응답으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Mindy, how was the trip to Pine Island with your parents during the holidays?

W: It was great. My parents were very happy with the trip.

M: That's good. What did you do?

W: We visited historic sites, ate traditional food, and took pictures at scenic viewpoints.

M: Didn't your parents get tired with all those activities?

W: No. I made sure they had enough time to slowly enjoy the place.

M: That's nice. You mean you planned the whole trip yourself?

W: Yes, I did. I tried to keep it simple so that my parents wouldn't get exhausted.

M: That makes sense. I'm actually planning a trip to Pine Island for my parents' 40th wedding anniversary this summer.

W: Then I think a relaxing trip like this would be perfect for them.

M: So I was wondering if you could share your travel plan with me.

[Cell phone rings.]

W: Hey, Mike. what's up?

M: Hey, Victoria. I need your advice. You used to run a restaurant before, right?

W: Yeah. What's the matter?

M: You know I opened my pizza restaurant last month, but things aren't going well.

W: Oh, can you be more specific?

M: The people who visited really liked the food but there aren't as many customers as I hoped.

W: Then the problem seems to be a lack of attention. You need to do something to attract people's interest.

M: How? Do you have any suggestions?

W: Actually, people rely on online reviews a lot these days. So, if you have many reviews, more people might get interested.

M: You're right. How can I encourage customers to write reviews, then?

W: You can give out free side menus to the people who post reviews on their social media.

M: _____

다음 상황 설명을 듣고, Emily가 Ryan에게 할 말로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오. [3점]

M: Emily and Ryan are close friends. Today, there is a local festival taking place at their town, so Emily and Ryan want to check it out together after school. When they arrive at the festival, there are many booths that seem interesting. Since Ryan wants to see everything, they just keep moving around without spending much time at any of the booths. However, Emily realizes that they only have about an hour left before the festival ends and worries that they won't enjoy the festival like this. So, Emily wants to suggest that they pick some booths they're both interested in and spend more time there. In this situation, what would Emily most likely say to Ryan?

다음을 듣고, 물음에 답하십시오.

W: Hello, students. Last time, we talked about economics in everyday life. Today, I'd like to introduce some economic terms connected to colors. First, just like a stop sign, red in economy often signals warning and danger. So, if a business is 'in the red', it means it's losing money. Second, we have blue. Blue suggests things that are safe and reliable, so 'blue-chip stock' refers to a stock of a large, stable company that is considered safe to invest in. Next, green is linked to nature and long-term growth. For instance, a 'green investment' is investing in businesses that try to protect nature, like renewable energy or electric cars. Lastly, white often refers to legal activity as it stands for purity and honesty. Thus, 'white market' is where companies follow government rules and guarantee the quality of their products. Isn't it interesting? Now, let's read some articles to get a better understanding of these terms.
